

Qualified professionals wanted – Proactive applications are welcome!

About us

Schumann & Sohn GmbH, a company within the internationally active Turpaz Group, is a renowned manufacturer of flavourings, colours and colouring foodstuffs for the food industry, based in Karlsruhe, Germany.

We focus on local creation, development and production – this enables us to serve our customers quickly, efficiently and in a targeted manner. Our agile supply chain ensures seamless service and rapid responsiveness.

Our success is based on the strength and expertise of our exceptional team – as well as on the professionalism we have brought to everything we do for decades.

We are looking for qualified professionals!

We are always on the lookout for committed and qualified staff who would like to join our team in various areas.

Possible areas of work

- Commercial administration
- Quality management & quality assurance
- Laboratory & product development
- Production
- Warehouse & logistics

What we're ideally looking for

- A completed apprenticeship/degree or equivalent qualification
- Professional experience is an advantage, but not essential in every area
- A meticulous, structured and team-oriented approach to work
- Very good written and spoken German and English; knowledge of other languages is an advantage
- An interest in the food industry and in high-quality raw materials and products

Interested?

If so, we look forward to receiving your detailed application.
